Post-Tuthill Fight.

At the request of Malcolm MacLear, counsel for Mrs. Ida Post Tuthill, Vice-Chancellor Stevens on Wednesday dismissed the writ of habeas corpus requiring Mary A. Tuthill, the 12-year-old daughter of his client, to be brought into court. Mr. MacLear asked for the dismissal of the writ so that he will be in a position to renew his application before Chancellor Magie and have the whole merits of the case inquired into.

According to Mr. MacLear, William H. Hollis of 75 Pleasant Avenue, Montclair, has improperly and illegally obtained control of Mrs. Tuthill's daughter and refuses to give her up. It is one of the allegations made in the affidavits on which the writ dismissed on Wednesday was issued that Hollis kidnapped the child from Mrs. Tuthill and carried it to New York, where the child now remains with Hollis's friends.

Several weeks ago, Mary A. Post, a sister of Mrs. Tuthill, had Mr. Hollis arrested, and, although he has considerable political influence, Prosecutor of the Pleas Riker insisted that he be held for examination by the Grand Jury. Subsequently Hollis was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,500, pending his examination before the Grand Jury.

GIRLS AS BANK TELLERS.

Do Better Work and Are More Trustworthy Than Men, Says a Bank Cashier.

Behind each of the 13 windows in the savings department of the Royal Trust bank, 169 Jackson boulevard, sits a young woman taking in and paying out the money of several thousand depositors, reports the Chicago Chronicle.

The young women have been employed there for some time, though it is the only bank in Chicago where they do that kind of work. They have proven faithful and accurate in their work and the manager of the bank says that men will never displace them.

"They are always at work on time," said Cashier Edwin P. Mack, "and when closing time comes they do not rush to get out for fear of working a minute too long. Then they do not spend the bank's time in telling each other of their experiences the night before.

"We are not hiring girls to save money. We pay them just as much as we once did men in the same places. We simply made the change because we found them more reliable and efficient."

Race Troubles in Argentine Republic.

Considerable race hatred has been aroused in the Argentine republic because the industrious German immigrants are making so much headway, while the indolent natives lag behind.

Base-Ball.

The Watsessing Club defeated the Verona Club last Saturday by a score of 4 to 3. The Verona sports had backed their club at odds of 2 to 1, and it was almost a foregone conclusion that Verona must win or the game must be broken up. The latter course was followed. This has been the invariable experience of the Watsessing Club with Verona whenever the Veronaites have placed much money on the game. The Veronas are hard losers. The game on Saturday was one of the surprises of base-ball. The Verona Club is made up largely of Newark players, and on the previous Sunday defeated the Watsessings by a score of 20 to 2.

The game Saturday ended in a dispute in the beginning of the sixth inning. In the fourth inning, after two men were out, Watsessing got two hits and a base on balls, filling the bases. Weisbecker then muffed a little foul fly and two runs were scored. In the sixth inning, with no one out and a man on first, Archie Dailey hit the ball into Verona Lake for a clean home run, scoring two runs, making the score 4-3 in Watsessing's favor.

Temple, the Verona umpire, called it a home run at first. There had been a ground rule made before the game that a hit on the right side of a tree in deep centre field should be good for two bases only, and the umpire finally called it a two-base hit. The decision so wrought up the Watsessing team that it refused to play longer. The manager of the Verona team came out and ordered his men to play ball, leaving the two runs scored to count for Watsessing, but some of the Verona team refused to play, and as neither team could come to any agreement the game was discontinued. There was a whole lot of money bet on the result, and both teams were out for blood. Hesterfer was in great form and had nine strikeouts to his credit in five innings. Score:

The Park Boys took the Watsessing Jrs. into camp Saturday on the Branch Brook Park grounds and beat them with ten runs to the good. The Park Boys could not hit Foster until the seventh inning, when they hit for twelve runs. The feature of the game was a fine stop of a hot liner made by Foster of the Juniors. Wildman played his first game in two years yesterday, and is rounding into shape. Score:

A SOCIAL EVENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Zebulon G. Wood Celebrated Their Advent Into Their New House on Fremont Street with a House-Warming.

Mr. and Mrs. Zebulon G. Wood celebrated their occupancy of their new home here with a brilliant reception to a host of friends on Monday evening. Mr. Wood, who is the successful promoter of the St. James Lutheran Cemetery, located on Franklin Avenue in this town, recently purchased the very attractive residence, No. 59 Fremont Street, and the family's advent into their new home was made the occasion of a house-warming the like of which has never been surpassed in this vicinity as a social and festive event. The date selected also coincided with the anniversary of Mrs. Wood's birthday, and the customary celebration of this event was combined with the house-warming.

The interior of the house was elaborately and prettily decorated with potted plants, cut flowers and candelabra. The floral decorations were by Rassbach. The exterior grounds were transformed into a fairy land by the generous and artistic use of lanterns and other decorations. Souse's orchestra of New York city furnished delightful music. Davis of Orange furnished a sumptuous supper and there was no stint of refreshments of every kind.

The cellar was fitted out in a novel and amusing manner for the particular benefit of the gentleman guests. The decorative mottoes in the cellar cafe occasioned much hilarity, and evinced Mr. Wood's familiarity with the characteristics of some features of Bloomfield's social life and politics.

The Rev. J. G. M. Ketner was master of ceremonies at the banquet table, and Samuel Macdonald of Newark made a happy response to the toast "Mine host and hostess." Mr. Macdonald complimented Mr. and Mrs. Wood on their elegant home and extended warm thanks for the lavish and hospitable manner in which the guests had been entertained. Former Register John P. Dexheimer of Orange was hailed as the "next Sheriff," and gracefully responded.

Mrs. Wood was the recipient of numerous presents from friends, and among them a handsome portrait of her husband presented by George Grey and W. R. Rues of Boston, Mass.

Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. John P. Dexheimer, Colonel George P. Olcott, Mr. and Mrs. James Belden, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tobin, John Molter and Robert Wright, from the Oranges; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Witte, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Witte, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Sturken, Rev. Frederick Krapf, Rev. J. G. M. Ketner, Rev. and Mrs. J. F. W. Kitzmeyr, George and Fred Spieker, Mrs. Geo. W. Schaefer, Frederick H. Schaefer, all of New York; Councilman and Mrs. Wilfred P. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reinheimer, Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. G. Britton Tucker, Charles H. Johnson, Herbert Decker, C. S. Sherman, B. B. Jacobs, E. B. Budd, Miss Grace Dodd of this town; Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Hugh Mullin, Frederick Gibbs, Theodore Heidenhauser of Montclair.

A Runaway.

A horse attached to a two-seated carriage in which were seated four young men, said to reside in Passaic, became frightened at a train at the Broad Street bridge of the Greenwood Lake Railroad Monday night, and ran at high speed toward Brookdale. The driver did his best to check the animal's speed, and when his companions saw that he could not they leaped from the vehicle, and all received bruises of a painful character.

The driver, who later gave his name as Payson, stuck to his post and kept the runaway in the middle of the road. When the hill over the Morris Canal at Brookdale had been climbed the horse was exhausted, and Payson stopped it without difficulty. He then drove back and took in his friends, whom he found nursing their bruises at various points along the roadside.

A Woman's Prayer.

Dear God, there is a single prayer
That I would pray of Thee;
It is not that I may not care
Where he may go from me—
My heart would seek and know him there,
Were he on land or sea.

It is not that I may forget
The tears mine eyes have shed;
I seek no surcease of regret
Till I at last am dead.
I crave not peace of Thee, nor yet
That I be comforted.

This is my prayer, that giving so
The gift imperative,
Bearing the bruises of the blow
He struck while I shall live—
Spare me, oh, God! that he should know
That I can still forgive!
